With the competitive world of business moving ever faster, the need to keep pace becomes even more challenging. Custom Cases' vast experience in the field of mobile workstations can help you meet this challenge. Imagine your computers, printers and modems all interfacing and built into one of our rugged briefcases - and all to your exact specification. Cases are powered up by a single cable feeding, where specified, a built in transformer. Just open the detachable lid, plug in, and you're ready to work. With generous space allowed for all the documentation you need, the age of the truly mobile office comes a step nearer.

From the simple carry bag, through the field proven aluminium transit case to the custom built powered workstation, our aim is to offer complete mobility and total protection to your portable systems....

....whatever they may be.

INDUSTRIAL & TRANSIT CASES

The cases in our aluminium faced Midflight range are all suitable for personal handling and most airlines will accept them as meeting IATA "On board" cabin baggage recommendations (sum of dimensions is 115cm). All have quality fittings, are foam lined and are supplied with a shoulder strap as standard.

Six sizes of aluminium faced heavy duty transit cases are now stocked as standard. Lined with rigid foam they are ideal for transporting heavy or expensive equipment. We also offer a complete specials service, including interior fabrication to house your equipment. Make sure it arrives there, as it leaves you - intact.

Should you wish to send equipment by international carriers, we would recommend FULL FLIGHT aluminium transits.

These are extremely robust and offer the added security of recessed handles and locks.

We would be please to quote upon request.

FULL FLIGHT

Our in-house adaptability and work practices also enable us to offer our "Mossman" style of transit cases, which are fabricated from aluminium/PVC or fibreboard covered plywood but with lighter weight PVC extrusions on edges and corners.

Our polypropylene range of injection moulded cases is ideal for those product promotions or protection of budget items and we offer a choice of size and colour. Foam inserts can be cut to suit if requested.
